

At Big Bus Tours, we are committed to the health and safety of our customers and staff. While travelling with Big Bus Tours is a magnificent way of exploring the world, it is important to be cautious about health and safety while travelling – both on your tour and in preparation.

Before travelling, be aware of:

- The country's emergency services phone numbers.
- The city's reputable medical facilities.
- Regional food and water risks.
- Prevalent regional diseases. Be sure to get recommended and required vaccinations before travelling to a new country.
- Your surroundings. There may be potential dangers stemming from the local environment.

While you are on your Big Bus Tour:

- Remain seated with your arms and legs inside the vehicle while the bus is in motion.
- Be mindful of your belongings. Always keep them with you so they are not at risk of getting lost or stolen.
- If there is an emergency, contact local emergency services.
- In the event of an emergency occurring on your tour, be sure to follow any instruction given to you by the driver or law enforcement officials.
- While hopping on or off your tour, be aware of the traffic around you and adhere to road safety precautions.
